

Introduction

Our levels are divided into the following groups:

- Automatic levels
- Digital levels
- High precision levels

Our automatic levels include the popular and well known C3 series and B series. Various models are available based on your requirements.

Our digital levels group offers our powerlevel SDL30. This high accuracy digital level ensures your work is as easy and simple as possible.

The high precision levels are a complete range of accurate levels, including first order and tilting levels.
